Swasthya is an independent publication aimed at promoting debate on hot-topics and not for making profits.

This winter witnessed a period of great anxiety over the spread of the Omicron variant of COVID-19. The pandemic is providing a unique opportunity of valuable learning and it holds a mirror to the capability of the healthcare systems in dealing with rapidly emerging challenges.

I am grateful to Dr Santosh Mudholkar, our Chief Editor for the Mental Health section for the interview on some key aspects of COVID-19 with the President of the Royal College Psychiatrists, Dr Adrian James. Prof Parag Singhal, who is a Consultant Endocrinologist and metabolic medicine and I, have raised a pertinent issue of workforce training and vacancies in the NHS, a major challenge in the post COVID era. Our sheared the view is that the time has come to initiate a Royal Commission on the future of the Health Care System to consider all views from relevant stakeholders, especially front-line staff to compile a set of proposals to make the NHS fit for the future.

Mr C R Chandrasekar, Orthopaedic Surgeon who leads Swasthya's Surgery section has reviewed the news of the introduction of Photon-counting CT technology in the UK. I like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr Sharad Agrawal, Consultant Cardiologist who leads Swasthya's Cardiology section, who has kindly facilitated our association with British Association of Cardiologists of Indian Origin (BACIO), which I believe will add value to the publication. Our editorial team welcomes this association. I would also like to welcome support from Dr Sanjay Arya, Consultant Cardiologist.

Dr Meehar Shah and Dr Shashank Patil, consultants in Emergency Medicine have contributed an article in relation to Point of Care Ultrasound (POCUS) in Emergency Medicine. Dr M Ramalingam, a Laparoscopic and Transplant Surgeon from the Hindustan Hospital, Coimbatore has kindly provided some valuable information about Bladder Leiomyoma. We are privileged to have contribution from Prof. Ramamurthy, retired Professor of Surgery at the Coimbatore Medical College & Hospital KMCH Institute of Health Sciences & Research, one of the first persons to start Laparoscopy work in India. Dr Lakshmi Seshadri, for providing an update of Gynaecology advances. Dr Raju Vaishya and Dr Abhishek Vaish have provided a synopsis on the significant impacts of COVID-19 on human beings. I am grateful for their contribution.

I am delighted that Dr Mahendra Patel, a member of Swasthya's Editorial Advisory Board has been honoured in the HM The Queen's New Year's Honours List with the recognition of being made an Officer of the Order of the British Empire (OBE). I also congratulate Lord Ajay Kakkar who has been recognised as a Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire (KBE). Professor Kamlesh Khunti received the award of Commander of order of British Empire (CBE). Professor Iqbal Singh OBE who has been great supporter of Swasthya was awarded Commander of order of British Empire (CBE).

I hope that you will find this issue, both informative and helpful.
